

We're going to work really hard to get better at our reading by changing how we teach reading, introducing Word of the Week, Reading Allowed sessions and getting teachers to share their favourite books in assembly.

All your teachers will be improving their teaching by working with other teachers on a coaching model.

We're going to be making sure that all our subject leaders and middle leaders get even better through training, coaching and partnerships and we'll keep looking at our topics to make sure you get the very best out of them!

We will continue to support new teachers with the help of Transform Trust.

What are we doing to improve our school this year?

We are going to be raising the level of challenge for all children at Brocklewood, but we are going to particularly focus on those children who are most able.

We're introducing a new maths scheme called Maths No Problem to help you with your reasoning skills. We're still going to focus on arithmetic during our Fast Maths Sessions in the afternoon.

We're finding more ways for our governors to become expert at checking that things are going well in school, so that our school becomes even better than it already is!

Mrs Folkes will be working with Mrs Hayman-Madden to ensure everyone is in school as much as possible. They will continue to do Late Gate and will also be doing more home visits.

In EYFS, we are going to continue the excellent work we have been doing to get even better at Literacy.

We'll be carrying on the great work we've been doing to ensure that pupil attendance keeps on improving, and this year we're aiming for 96%.
